CIVIC GROUP DISCUSSES PROPOSED INSTITUTION OF NILES LIONS CLUB

Sentiment Is Divided On Wisdom of Move In Community

Following a meeting last week with a committee of Lions from Centerville, debate on the question of a Niles Lions club waxed hot and heavy at the Niles Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday. Comment disclosed a divided opinion among the members of the Niles group, with sentiment in favor of a retention of the present organization.

Presient F. V. Jones, brought the matter up for the approval of the members after stating that the executive committee had last week met with a delegation of Lions. No definite plans for the move were disclosed.

During the past year, critics of the Niles Chamber of Commerce, have fostered the opinion that the Niles group was undergoing a fatty degeneration, it is said, basing their conclusions on the fact that the Chamber was not showing energetic action. Lester Duffy, in his defense of the Niles civic group, stated that during the past fifteen years projects have been completed and work undertaken and done by the Niles Chamber that are at present engaging the younger organizations in other towns. Duffy staunchly advocated the continued support of the original civic group. Duffy held that no other organization of a similar nature in the county, could show a record of continuous meetings and activity comparable to that of the Niles body.

H. L. Scott, favoring a welding of the south county communities through the medium of a single service club, averred that valuable contacts could be attained through a club in Niles. He advocated either the founding of such a club here, or the complete rehabilitation of the present Chamber of Commerce. His sentiments were echoed by E. E. Glassbrook. D. B. Colville, experienced in the work of both service clubs and chambers throughout the state stated that in all cases he has known, a service club has proved of outstanding value to the community.

Evidently in answer to a suggestion made by H. L. Scott that new life might be injected into the Niles chamber by a change in the administration. F. V. Jones stated that a nominating committee would be appointed soon, and the present order changed.

Several members of the chamber, voiced the opinion that a service club would mean additional expense to members. It was also said that institution of the club would mean the absolesence of the Chamber, or, if not, would be the germ of dissenting factions in the town.

A lack of time prevented a vote and conclusion of the problem at Monday's meet, and it will be taken up again next time.

Previous to the main discussion of the day, Jones asked for reports from committee heads. Dr. E. C. Grau, chairman of the committee handling the boy scout fund, stated that contributions were steadily mounting. He added that contributors seemed willing to support the drive.

Supervisor Ralph V. Richmond, in answer to queries concerning a proposed anti-racket council for the county, stated that District Attorney Earl Warren, protagonist of the plan, would come to Niles in the near future and address the chamber concerning same. Endorsement was postponed pending Warren's visit.

FARM MEETINGS AT HIGH SCHOOL SET FOR MONDAY NIGHTS

Local Questions To Be Discussed by Able Speakers

Washington township farmers who are interested in the subject of farm loans and credit gathered at the Washington Union high school Monday night to participate in the first of a series of discussions of questions of vital interest to agriculturists.

Based on a suggestion of E. Agosti, principal of the night school, the series of instructive evenings will take up consecutive Monday nights until February 19. Speakers obtained to outline and explain the subject matter are eminently qualified to do so. The lectures are conducted during the regular time for the night school classes in agriculture.

W. S. Guilford, assistant secretary of the Federal Lands Banks of Berkeley, and Burton Willis, manager of the Hayward Production Association, led the discussion Monday evening. The subject of how the federal government may help the farmer was perused. Expert information was offered by the speakers on all types of farm loans, land and crop loans and farm credit.

On February 5, the second meeting will be held. Subject will be control and eradication of orchard pests and diseases, such as thrips, bark beetles, little leaf and so on.

Of pertinent interest to all growers will be the meet on February 12, when the State Pro-rate laws will be discussed relative to local crops. Comment will also be made on the American Agriculture Administration.

The concluding gathering of the series will be held on February 19, when the question of the local water table will be delved into. Water conservation and irrigation in Washington township is slated for discussion.

LEG AMPUTATED AFTER ACCIDENT ON SKIING PARTY

Complications setting in after he wrenched his knee skiing in the mountains recently cost Howard Roland, former Niles boy, his leg. It was necessary to amputate to save Roland's life after blood poisoning set in.

On a skiing party in the Sierras several weeks ago, Roland was unable to control the skis and crashed into a stump. A broken blood vessel behind the knee finally resulted in the malignant infection.

Roland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Roland, of Bakersfield. The elder Roland was roadmaster in this district several years ago.

GAS-GRABBING CAR THIEVES LAND IN COUNTY BASTILLE

Officer Duffy Lewis Flags Down Speeders At Centerville

About to give a ticket to a speeder who had scorched through Centerville in a high powered car last week-end, Duffy Lewis, motor officer suldeniy realized that the license number corresponded with one of a reported stolen car. Holding the three occupants of the car, Duffy investigated. The result was the county bastille for one Norris Williams, driver, and his two companions, all of Madera. Madera authorities later took the men into custody.

Lewis' arrest of the culprits followed in a string of incidents of a somewhat unusual nature. The big car was first under suspicion when it bolted from a San Leandro service station after taking on seventeen gallons of gas. The attendant secured the license number. Repeating the gas swindle at an Invington service station, the trio was fleeing toward Oakland when Duffy flagged them down.

The car is said to belong to a Madera man named W. Braama.

MOTORIST SCALES EMBANKMENT IN DENSE FOG

The week-end's sunshine and signs of spring relapsed into murky weather Monday, after weather prophets had issued statements of continued clear days. Sunburn contracted over Saturday and Sunday, was eased early this week, as high, cold fogs hid the sun.

A dense fog, said to be one of the thickest in Washington township for several years, descended Sunday night, much to the dismay of tourists returning from their week-end revels. Traffic slowed to a walk as drivers swore at windshield wipers and peered into the mist.

In spite of the poor visibility, only one mishap was reported. An unidentified driver, driving south through Niles at 1:00 Sunday night, evidently lost track of the white center line on the highway as he was passing in front of Solon's service station. Driving diagonally across the road, the motorist suddenly found himself climbing the steep slope on the roalroad right of way. On attempting to back down he became entangled in a guy wire. One running board was the cost of the tangle.

TWO STOLEN CARS FOUND STRIPPED AT ALVARADO RECENTLY

Thieves Evidently Use Local Area as Car Graveyard

Driving stolen cars from Oakland out to Washington township and stripping them here is a practice that will soon be stopped, according to a report from local authorities, after two machines were discovered near Alvarado last week.

Both Oakland cars, as investigation revealed, and both of the same make, the machines were stripped of tires and rims, batteries, registration and license plates. One, a Buick sedan, was found near the Leslie Salt company's packing shed, and the other, a Buick coach was abandoned by the thieves on the Will Patterson property. Authorities believe that a demand for certain parts of the particular make of car have caused a wave of stealing.

According to Constable Tom Silva, ownership of one of the machines was traced to an Oakland Chinese. The other contained letters addressed to an A. Warren, also of Oakland.

Another stolen car recovered in this district by motor patrolman Duffy Lewis last week swelled the number of machines recovered in the township in the last two months to four. Constable O. W. Ebright and deputy sheriff Hugo Radbruch turned in a car abandoned on the Driscoll road several weeks ago.

MRS. ROSA A. SILVA, 87, RESIDENT IN NILES FOR 55 YEARS, SUCCUMBS

Mother of Judge J. A. Silva Passes Away Saturday

Followig a life of service and kindness for all who came in contact with her, Mrs. Rosa Adelaide Silva, aged 87 years, passed away quietly at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frances Nagli, at Niles, on Saturday, January 27.

Mrs. Silva had been a resident of Washington township for fifty-five years, having come to California from the Azore Islands to join her husband, Antone F. Silva, who was at the time operating a freighter service between Sacramento and the mines. Previous to her coming to Niles, Mrs. Silva lived for several years in San Lorenzo and also at Half Moon Bay. Her husband preceded her in death fifteen years ago.

Interested in those activities in life that give happiness to others, Mrs. Silva rendered invaluable service in the community in the early days. She is said to have officiated at the birth of more babies than any doctor in Washington township. Even up to the time when she became unable to take an active part in raising her grandchildren and the numerous babies born at the Silva Maternity home, where she had lived for the past fifteen years, Mrs. Silva retained an affection for children. Numbers of men and women, at whose birth she had assisted, came long distances to attend her funeral. Some knew her only by hearsay.

On her way to America in 1874, Mrs. Silva was one of the passengers on a windjammer that was rammed by a British steamer. She was rescued after several minutes in the sea. The English boat proceeded to Liverpool, where Mrs. Silva embarked again for the United States. She came to California around Cape Horn.

Mrs. Silva was the mother of Judge J. A. Silva, Niles justice. She is also survived by five daughters Mrs. Mary Joseph, Mrs. Rose Elwstrom, Mrs. Frances Nagli, Mrs. Anna Hayes, and Mrs. Victoria Sexton. She was the mother of four sons: Judge J. A. Silva, Antone F. Silva, Manuel G. Silva and Frank A. Silva.

Funeral services were held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frances Nagli, at 9:00 Tuesday morning, thence to the Corpus Christi church at Niles, where mass was said by the Rev. Father O'Connor. Interment followed at the Holy Ghost cemetery at Centerville.

CROP PRO-RATE FOR CAULIFLOWER LOOMS IN ALAMEDA COUNTY

Local Growers Named On Committee For Petitions

Hopes for a profitable return from Washington township's cauliflower crop during the spring season were raised last week when plans were announced for gaining the assistance of the State Pro-Rate Commission. A growers' committee, made up of local and Hayward farmers are this week seeking completion of petitions asking state aid in controlling production and shipments.

According to statements made, state commission action will be taken if a majority of growers, controlling two-thirds of the estimated cauliflower acreage signify their support of the plans.

The committee is headed by Richard C. Kennedy, of Hayward. L. Baily, of Alvarado, and M. Williams, of Centerville represent Washington township.

According to Kennedy, the report said, curtailed shipments rather than acreage reduction will possibly be used to prevent glutted markets and reduced prices.

Washington township has for many years been one of the major cauliflower sections of Alameda county. In good times the estimated value of the county crop was over $1,000,000.

Local growers state that any plan designed to increase their return will be given whole-hearted support.

NILES CARD SHARKS BEATEN IN PEDRO GAME FRIDAY

Asserting that they were short two of their stars Friday evening, the Niles Firemen pedro players took a drubbing at the hands of the Mission San Jose sharks. Mission won six out of ten hands.

Niles enthusiasts declare that had Joe Machado and E. E. Dias been in the Niles roster, results would have been different.

As the last hand was being played, Roland Bendel, chief of the Decoto smoke eaters, blew in and challenged the winning Mission team to a contest in the near future. The date will be set later.

Following the exertions of the game, all present enjoyed a "feed."

Numerous people brought their business activities to an early close Tuesday evening in order that they could prepare to attend one of the several Roosevelt balls within easy driving distance of Niles.

More than 5000 balls were held in the United States Tuesday night. The proceeds of all of them will go to the Warm Springs Sanitarium for infantile paralysis in Georgia.

Y. L. I. WILL HONOR YEAR'S BRIDES AT VALENTINE FETE

According to Mrs. Gertrude Enos, the evening will be spent at whist. Gifts will be tendered to the brides, and refreshments will be served. The decorations will follow a Valentine motif. Mrs. Enos and Josephine Maggiora have charge of the arrangements.

CHEVROLET BETTER THAN PREDICTED

The reality of the new Chevrolet, now on display at both the Niles and Centerville Rose Garage, surpasses all predictions made for it, according to lucky ones who have ridden in the new car.

With knee-action, individually sprung front wheels, the new car takes bumps without the occupants feeling them. Some of those who drove the car stated that even when climbing a curb the bump is barely perceptible.

Finished throughout with new and perfect taste and with the new aeroplane type dash, the Chevrolet is a thrilling car from behind the steering wheel. Rose invites all interested people to ride in one of his new Chevrolets.

County Crews Repair Niles Plaza This Week

Motorists may now turn around the Niles flagpole without having their teeth jolted loose, thanks to county road crews which Tuesday repaired the vast and numerous chuckholes, and laid a smooth, unruffled plaza.

Previous to the smoothing process, the area about the flagpole was a fitting prelude to the roller coaster approach to the Niles station. The new pavement is of the variety that prevents skidding, and is sleek in appearance.

WILSON went to the window and raised the curtain. He had been up all night working. Now he heard the thunder and saw the long flashes of lightning gleaming in the skies.

The doorbell rang. Who could be calling at half-past three in the morning? He went to the door and opened it. A man in a raincoat stepped into the hall. He raised his hand and Wilson found himself looking into the muzzle of a gun.

"Hello, Wilson," his visitor greeted him.

"Who are you?" Wilson looked at him, puzzled, trying to recall where he had seen the man.

The stranger laughed, an unpleasant laugh. He gave an extra shove of the gun against Wilson's ribs.

"You don't remember me, do you?" he asked. "You never do remember the guys you send up."

A light broke on Wilson and, for an instant, he turned pale.

"You're Jones," he said. "The man who killed Hans Gilbert!"

His visitor nodded. "You remember now. And do you remember that I said I'd come back and get you?"

Wilson lit a cigarette.

"Well," he said. "You seem to have come. Would you mind telling me how you escaped? You were scheduled for electrocution at four this morning, if I'm not mistaken."

"At four this morning," the man returned grimly.

Wilson nodded. "Beastly hour—even for an execution."

"Cut it! The chaplain was a friend of mine. We changed places. One of the guards recognized me but I knocked him down and got away. I had a hard time getting here, but it's worth it. Wilson, I'm going to kill you!"

Wilson bowed his head. "I seem to have heard you say that before," he said.

Jones was a little puzzled by the other's nonchalance.

"You may think I'm kidding," he said. "But at four o'clock, you're going to die—not me!"

Wilson glanced at his wrist watch. Then he walked over to his desk and sat down. "Well," he said, "I've fifteen minutes yet. No—only thirteen. My watch is slow. Do you mind if I finish this letter I'm writing?"

Jones shook his head. A peal of thunder vibrated through the house. "Quite a storm," commented Wilson, amiably.

"Getting worse," was the laconic reply. "Say, Wilson," glancing at his host admiringly, "you've got guts, all right. But," with a frown, "they ain't goin' to do you no good now. I came here to kill you and I'm going to do it—on schedule."

Wilson made no reply. He went on writing.

"What time is it now?" asked Jones.

"I've just five minutes to four. There's a church up the street. The clock chimes the hour. You'll have no trouble knowing when it's four o'clock."

Jones got up. He was nervous—far more nervous than his intended victim. With the gun trained on Wilson, he walked to the window and threw up the shade. The flashes of lightning were blinding but he did not draw the curtain.

"Don't you feel kind of queer, Wilson?" he asked. "Like something you couldn't stop was coming after you?"

Wilson nodded.

"Well, that's the way I've felt all day. I realized that I was going to die. It isn't a nice feeling, is it?"

"Can't say that it is," replied Wilson truthfully.

At that moment the chimes on the church began to peal. Jones counted them slowly, one—two—three—four. With the last stroke, he slowly lifted the gun.

"Have you anything to say, prisoner?" he asked, ironically.

Wilson shook his head. "I have nothing to say."

Jones aimed. Suddenly, there was a blinding flash. Wilson felt himself hurled to the floor. He lay there stunned for a few minutes. Then, he rose weakly. He looked around for Jones. The man lay on the floor, the gun tightly clenched in his right hand. Wilson recoiled in horror!

The telephone began to ring. Wilson picked it up.

"This is Talbot of the Morning Star," a voice said. "There's a report that Frank Jones escaped from the state prison early this morning. Do you know if it's true?"

"What do the authorities say?" asked Wilson.

"Oh, you know them," impatiently. "They refuse to make a statement. We've been trying to get in touch with them and the prison direct. Couldn't get the prison—wires all down. Struck by lightning, I understand."

Wilson hesitated. He looked at the body on the floor. Then, in a voice so low that he could scarcely recognize it as his own, he said:

"You can report to your paper, Talbot, that the execution of Frank Jones took place. He was electrocuted at four o'clock this morning."

PEDIGREE FAKERS DELUDE THOUSANDS

Scientist Says No Real Norman Blood Exists.

London. — Norman blood exists only in the handiwork of "pedigree fakers," said Lord Raglan, head of the anthropological section of the British Association for the advancement of science, at the society's meeting in Leicester. Finally trees purporting to reach back to the Norman conquest are the product of just another racket, Lord Raglan said.

The British scientist might have been talking to American suckers who come over every year to pay fistfuls of dollars in order to get their ancestry traced back to some duke or earl. Instead he was talking "turkey" to some of the oldest families in England.

He was the most outspoken speaker before 2,000 delegates gathered to discuss the 13 branches of science.

"In this country of the many families whose 'traditions' take them back to the time of the Norman conquest, it can be said without fear of contradiction that not one of these is a genuine tradition," the peer said. "All of them are the work of pedigree fakers who have flourished from very early times and there is not a word of truth in them.

"No English family can trace its descent to the Saxons and though there are a few families with a genuine Norman descent, this in no case goes as far back as the Eleventh century."

Lord Raglan mentioned some names. Sir Hereward Wake, thirteenth baronet, comes from a family claiming descent from the famous Saxon hero, Hereward the Wake, famous for his resistance to William the Conqueror. Sir Raglan declared that Sir Hereward was never called the Wake, that he was probably a mythological character anyhow, and that no member of the Wake family was christened Hereward until 1851.

He asserted that Robin Hood even should be left out of the story books. Lord Raglan added that the location of Sherwood forest is uncertain, that a number of counties claim Robin Hood, and that the legends describe him as everything from an earl to a churl.

Napoleonic Relics in Paris Enriched by Gifts

Paris.—Two important gifts this year enriched the already important Napoleonic collection of the Malmaison museum.

The French philanthropists, M. and Mme. Jeffe, recently purchased for the museum the complete library of Empress Marie Louise which had been offered at auction in Berlin.

The other recent gift is a collection of coins and medals covering the period of the consulate and the first empire which was collected by Capt. Gaston Geradot, who recently died at Sermoise, France. The captain's family presented the collection, numbering over 2,000 objects in gold, copper and bronze to the Malmaison museum.

JOHNSON'S ALL STARS WIN GAME FROM MT. DIABLO

Johnson's All-Stars defeated the Camp Diablo of C. C. C. in a game played at the Amador gym Monday evening of last week by a score of thirty-seven to thirty-two.

The game was rather clean and very speedy throughout. The score at half time was seventeen to fifteen with the Pleasanton boys leading. During the second half Johnson's boys scored twenty points while the C. C. C. scored seventeen.

The good work of the Pleasanton guards accounted greatly toward the victory. At various times in the game the forwards lacked teamwork for set up shots. Tonight the Johnson's All-Stars will play the Polytechnic college, of Oakland, at the Oakland auditorium; and on February twenty-first they will play the Montgomery team at the Amador gym. Next Wednesday the boys will play the Berkeley Antlers at the Amador gym.

The Johnson's lineup was: George, f, two; Silva, f, nine; Azevedo, f, twelve; Powers, c, ten; Vervais, g, four; Vervais, Kruse, King, and Soito, guards.

Following this game a pickup team made up of Amador Varsity and B team players played against the Meadowlark Dairy team the Dons winning by a score of thirty-eight to thirty-seven.

The Amador Varsity group played the first and third quarter and the B group played the second and fourth.

At half time the Dairy boys were leading with seventeen and and the Dons fourteen.

However, at the end of the third quarter the Varsity managed to leave the game with a ten point advantage. The final quarter found the Dairy boys closing up the gap against the B team Dons and finally the score turned in favor of the Dairy boys who gained a one point lead.

With two minutes to play Cintrone managed to make a field goal and with the slim lead of one point the Dons did not allow the Dairy boys to get possession of the ball, the game ending with a one point lead favoring the Dons. A return game will be played Wednesday night, at the Amador gym.

Both teams are evenly matched and another good contest is expected according to Coach George Patterson.

World Business Is Declared on Upturn

Washington. — An upturn in business, similar to that enjoyed in the United States under the blue eagle of the NRA, is being felt throughout the world. According to officials of the Department of Commerce millions of workers are returning to employment in industries in many countries. Wages, according to reports to the department, are the highest in years.

Since last winter more than 5,000,000 employees have returned to work, it has been estimated. Unemployment in the United States at present has been placed at 11,000,000. Since winter 2,000,000 have found jobs in this country.

The total of French unemployed, 283,000, showed a sharp decline against a large increase in 1932. In Italy unemployment at the end of April was 1,089,000, about 45,000 more than in April, 1932, but the decline from the January high was marked.

German unemployment at the end of May, 5,252,000, was 13 per cent under January and 6 per cent under May, 1932. British unemployment, 2,742,000, was 7 per cent under January and 3 per cent under May, 1932.

On the basis of figures compiled by the League of Nations, industrial output has risen along with employment.

$192,000 TO BE MADE AVAILABLE AT ONCE

The First National Bank of Pleasanton announced recently that the plans for taking over sixty per cent of the deposit liabilities of the Amador Valley Savings Bank and making aproximately $192,000.00 immediately available to the savings bank depositors thru a credit on the books of The First National Bank have been completed. The transfers will be made as of Friday, January 16, 1934.

A letter is being sent to all of the savings bank depositors, as follows:

"The First National Bank of Pleasanton takes pleasure in advising the depositors of the Amador Valley Savings Bank of Pleasanton, that in co-operation with the Federal and State authorities, it has participated in a plan whereby sixty per cent of the unsecured deposits of the Amador Valley Savings Bank will be made available at once.

"If you will present your pass book to the Conservator of the savings bank, you will receive an order on us in an amount equal to sixty per cent of your claim against that bank, and we will establish a credit in your favor on our books for such an amount.

"This transfer is to be as of January 26th. In order to avoid congestion we suggest that as far as convenient depositors of the savings bank present their pass books on the following days:

"Those whose last names begin with the letters A to D inclusive, on Friday, January 26th;

"Those whose last names begin with the letters E to K inclusive, on Saturday, January 27th;

"Those whose last names begin with the letters L to R inclusive, on Monday, January 28th;

"Those whost last names begin with the letters S to Z inclusive, on Tuesday, January 29th.

"Your cooperation in this schedule will avoid delays in arranging for the necessary signature cards and other records to make the funds available as outlined above.

"The First National Bank of Pleasanton is a member of the Federal Reserve System. Its deposits are insured through the Federal Deposit Insurance Fund.

"The capital of The First National Bank has been doubled by the purchase of preferred stock by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; thus the Bank is a "Government - partnered" Bank. This places the bank in a position to serve safely and well, the banking needs of this community.

"The management of the bank has been augmented by the election of Harry J. Harding as active president. Mr. Harding has had many years of banking experience. He was formerly vice president of two of California's largest banks—The American Trust Company and the then Oakland Bank.

"On the basis of soundness and interested service The First National Bank of Pleasanton solicits your business and cooperation in maintaining the financial integrity of the Pleasanton area."

The First National Bank issued a statement reflecting the bank's condition after taking over the savings bank deposit liabilities, dated January 24, 1934, which indicates a very strong liquid condition with cash on hand.

American Legion District Meet Draws Large Crowd

With the sounds of the bugle and drum corps almost every citizen in Pleasanton and many hundreds coming from the Southern Alameda county cities turned out at eight o'clock last Wednesday evening to see the big American Legion parade which marched up the main street of Pleasanton, countermarched and disbanded at the Veteran's Memorial building where a huge district meeting was held.

Charles Graham, postmaster and deputy coroner of Pleasanton, was marshal in the parade. His aides were Jack Simonds and Clay Elworthy, next in the line of march were the colors of the legion posts.

Ray Ewart, Pleasanton commander, lead the group of distinguished guests, following was the San Jose Red Devils Drum and Bugle Corps in attractive red uniforms with shiny helmets.

R. W. Apperson led the section of the central county posts in which was the Oakland Drum Corps dressed in blue uniforms. Earl Trimingham led the northern county posts. In this section was the Berkeley Drum and Bugle Corps dressed in snappy blue uniforms trimmed in gold. Following were representatives of the Southern Alameda County Posts.

After the parade disbanded a business meeting was held at the Veteran's Memorial building called to order by Elmer Zollner, of Oakland, district commander. A number of musical selections were rendered by the C. W. A. orchestra; a short play was presented by the Sons of Legion Post, of Oakland, three solos were rendered by three Oakland girls, the Pleasanton girls trio played a few selections.

The masterful address was delivered by Homer Challeaux, state commander. The meeting lasted until midnight and was snappy and full of enthusiasm.

The committee in charge, which was headed by Jack Simonds and Clay Elworthy, extends its appreciation to all who helped make the meeting and parade the big success it was.

Amador Dons Are Defeated by Deaf and Dumb Teams

The Amador A and B teams were defeated in a contest of the Southern Alameda County Athletic league when they were downed by the boys of the California School for the Deaf and Dumb at a game played at Berkeley recently.

At the end of the first quarter B teams were tied with a two and two score. However, during the second quarter the Dons managed to score four points while the Berkeley boys scored but two. In the third quarter the Dons scored one more point and managed to hold their opponents down not letting them score in that period.

The last quarter proved to be the drastic one for the Dons when their opponents managed to score eight points against the Dons' lone one. This was probably due to two substitutes who went into the game in the last three minutes of play. The reserve was too weak to be used in a close game. The Deaf boys who had lost all hope of winning suddenly took advantage of this situation and scored two field goals. The subs were taken out of the game and the regulars sent in and with the one point lead favoring the Dons the game became fast and furious. A foul on a Don tied the game with a score of nineteen to nineteen.

A personal foul on a player gave the Deaf and Dumb two free shots which they made good to make their two winning points.

The lineup for the B Dons was: Campagna, f, three; Cintrone, f, two; Paulo, c, two; g. Kamp, g, Mello, f, two; Bernard, g, one; and Shotwell, g.

In the Varsity game the Deaf and Dumb team started like a house a fire and ran up a score of fourteen to four in the first quarter. The Don guards were entirely too slow this being due to the absence of Ed Dolstra and the work falling solely upon Arnold Abrott.

In the second quarter the Dons started playing a defensive game with the result that the Deaf boys scored but five more points and the Dons making one.

The third quarter the Dons reversed the situation scoring eight against the Deaf's four.

The last quarter the Dons were careless trying long shots which failed to count, with the result that the Berkeley boys scored eight more and the Dons three. The game was played on fairly even terms after the first quarter.

Joe Peters was out in uniform and looked very good on the floor. His work was exceptionally good this being the first league contest he has played.

The lineup for the Varsity was: Hansen, f, six; Dutra, f, six; Moller, c, nothing; Abrott, g, four; J. Peters, g; Carey, f; H. Kamp, c.

HUSKER A'S WALLOP AMADOR 37 TO 12; B'S TRIUMPH 32-9

Unlimited In First League Victory Tuesday Evening

Proving that they are by no means out of the running, the Washington High school "A" cagers arose and walloped the Amador unlimited quintet by a score of thirty-seven to twelve Tuesday night at the Pleasanton gymnasium. The victory was the first league win for the Centerville boys.

The game was fast and rough, and the referee called plenty of fouls. At the end of the first quarter the tally was deadlocked, and the Centerville tossers worked fast to gain a nine-point lead at half time.

Andrade, Husker forward, was high point man with ten points. Habenicht trailed closely with seven.

Of the Pleasanton five, Dutra was far and away the star. He tallied eight points of the team's twelve. His work on the floor was smooth and clean.

Starting lineup for Cornhuskers was: Muniz and Andrade, forwards; Whitfield, center; Yamashito and Kato, guards.

Starting slowly, the Cornhusker "B" quintet finally rounded out true to their championship form, and annihillated the Amador's "B's" with a thirty-two to nine tally.

Sekigahama, slender Washington forward, captured high point honors for the evening. He was all over the court, and time and again ghosted through the Amador defense to roll them off the blackboard. He accounted for nineteen points.

Tally at half time was ominous, with Pleasanton leading six to four. Coach Regli, having started the game with the second team, ran in his first lineup at half time, and the story began to change.

Starting lineup: Raso and Silva, forwards; Kitade, center; Faria and Amaral, guards.

The win strengthened the Washington position at the top of the league pile.

The fund is being raised to build a hall adjoining the Irvington church Need for such a gathering place has been felt for some time, according to Mrs. Sloan.

PLANS UNDER WAY FOR NEW POLICE SYSTEM

Nocturnal Prowlers to Be Frustrated By Quick Action

Future prowlers in Centerville will find themselves in a decidedly embarrassing position if plans under way at the present time materialize.

Centerville is to have a definite police system, calculated to make it impossible for a culprit to escape the town once it is known that he is in it.

The new plans are under the direction of the Centerville Lion club, which recently appointed a committee consisting of Fred Rogers, Captain Hansen, Judge Allen G. Norris, Frank Madruga and Tom Silva to investigate the feasibility of the new proposal and to make a canvass of the citizens for their approval.

The committee met Tuesday at the offices of Judge Norris and laid plans for the drive.

According to Fred Rogers, the new system will employ a punch lock system for a watchman. The nocturnal officer will make the rounds of the town similar to the proceedure of a factory watchman.

Of still greater importance in the scheme is the plan to place a light at the top of the flag pole that will inform the watchman of trouble in some part of the town. According to Rogers the plan will work in the same fashion as in the larger cities. If anyone is disturbed by prowlers during the night, the proceedure is to call the telephone operator immediately. The operator will throw a switch lighting the flagpole light, which is visible in all parts of the town. The watchman, or officer on patrol, on noticing the light, will either call the operator, or proced to the office immediately and learn of the trouble.

It 's generally thought that the plan about to be carried out in Centerville is one of the best possible for rural communities.

BETSY ROSS PARLOR INSTALLATION TOMORROW

The Betsy Ross Parlor No. 238, will hold their installation of officers tomorrow evening, February 2.

Deputy Grand President Olinda Kardoza, of San Leandro, with a group of El Cereos members, will have charge of the ceremonies. Dora Brayton and Sallee Thaler, the latter the grand secretary, will be the guests of honor.

Delegations from Piedmont, Hayward, San Jose and Niles parlors will be present.

The installation tomorrow night marks the spring opening of important social events for the local parlor, the most outstanding of which will be the ball given for the benefit of the homeless childern. The affair will be given jointly with the Native Sons.

Club Members Enjoy Cards Friday Evening

Fifteen tables, twelve of bridge and three of whist, were played last Friday evening at the Country Club card party.

There were prizes at each table and delicious refeshments were served.

Arrangements for the affair were under the direction of Mrs. Franklin Brown, Jr., chairman, and Mrs. S. G. Scott, of the Ways and Means committee.

The old Palmdale winery, the ruins of which may still be seen across from the railroad station at Irvington, was once one of the most famous and well-equipped in the state. Its ruins now furnish a haven for hoboes, who have converted it into a "jungle."

PICKPOCKET AND VICTIM AGREED ON: "IT'S A GIFT"

The maxim "beware of strange gentlemen" should have been "avoid friendly ladies" for a Centerville man last week. His name was withheld. We shall call his "the victim," for the sake of brevity.

It seems the victim was axercising in his front yard, limbering up after an attack of lumbago, when an automobile rolled up to the curb and stopped. A feminine hand beckoned, and the victim, a courteous man, limped out to the sidewalk. The lady first asked directions to a nearby town, then, noticing the victim's slight limp, asked what the trouble was. A friendly man, the victim answered that lumbago was the trouble, whereupon the lady began a discourse on various cases of lumbago she had known. She diagnosed the victim's ailment as a certain insidious variety, and to prove her contention, leaned from the car and poked him in the short ribs, asking meanwhile, "does it hurt there?" It did hurt there, the victim assented, and the conversation lapsed. After a moment or two, the lady graciously thanked the victim and drove away.

He returned to his garden, and was about to resume his exercises, when a curious lightness of his pocket gave him wild fears. The worst was realized, he had been robbed. That light demonstrative poke had been the culprit's thrust. "I don't mind the money" bemoaned the victim, "but the pocketbook—it was a gift." Of the lady's talents, it could also be said, "It's a gift!"

CENTERVILLE K. C.'S ATTEND DINNER AT LIVERMORE

Missing no opportunity to take an active part in the activities of their organization in the east bay, a number of the Centerville Knights of Columbus recently attended a dinner at Livermore sponsored by the Hayward Council.

Principal speaker at the affair was Robert E. Rooney, Master of the Fourth degree, Knights of Columbus for northern California. Addresses were also given by M. S. Soares and E. H. Woodfelt, district deputies.

Those of the Centerville Council who were present at the meet were: E. J. Pimentel, grand Knight; M. W. Lewis, John Vasconcellos, Ed. Kettman, Jr., John Kettman, Ed. Kettman, Sr., A. E. Francis, Alvin Gomes and Oscar Nieneth.

K. C. QUINTET WILL MEET WARD TEAM THIS EVENING

With their floor game clicking like well oiled machinery, and their eye solidly on the iron hoops, the Centerville K. C. casaba slingers downed the Hayward high night school team last Wednesday night in a fast game in the Hayward gymnasium. The final tally was twenty-five to fifteen.

Last Wednesday night's victory gave the Centerville Knights a league standing of three games won and six lost. They played their final league game last night at Hayward against the Bruce Radio team, league champions.

Although the Bruce team had not been defeated so far, the Knights were in high hopes of meeting them. With Tom Mcloney back in the lineup at forward, the Centerville team was confident.

Tonight the K. C. boys will tangle with the Montgomery Ward team at the Washington high gymnasium. The game is slated for 9:00 p. m.

HIGH SCHOOL SEEKS ASSISTANCE OF CWA ARTISTS

Taking advantage of the stated intention of the Federal government to assist unemployed and needy artists through the channels of the Civil Work Art Projects, Principal A. J. Rathbone, of the Washington Union high school at Centerville last week applied to the Alameda County CWA headquarters for artists to design stage sets and scenery and to decorate the auditorium of the Centerville school. Original stage equipment at the school, although complete fundamentally, did not contain changeable sets. Stage effects have been gained by arrangement of monks cloth drapes, which, although entirely suitable for modern productions, do not allow the realistic scenery needed for most high school plays.

COUNTRY CLUB WILL HOLD MUSIC, ART AFTERNOON

Combining the authentic music of a period with the showing of famous paintings will be a feature of the next meeting of the Country Club of Washington township, scheduled for Tuesday, February sixth.

The address will be illustrated with stereoptican pictures, and accompanied by music of the same period as the picture shown.

The meeting is slated to begin at 2:00 p. m.

Tall Eucalyptus Tree Falls On Windless Day

Several valuable shrubs were mutilated and mild confusion stirred Saturday when a huge eucalyptus tree on the Shinn ranch evidently wearied with years of standing, suddenly decided to stretch out for a time. Examination of the fallen tree discloss a rotten root system. Only a slight breeze was blowing at the time. No one was endangered by the fall.

Frank Dusterberry attended a dinner of the East Bay Bank Officers' club held at the Athens Club in Oakland last Thursday night.

Now! Ease Sore Throat Instantly!

Crush and dissolve 3 Bayer Aspirin Tablets in half a glass of water.
2 GARGLE thoroughly — throw your head way back, allowing a little to trickle down your throat.
3 Repeat gargle and do not rinse mouth, allow gargle to remain on membranes of the throat for prolonged effect.

Remember: Only Medicine Helps Sore Throat

Modern medical science now throws an entirely new light on sore throat. A way that eases the pain, rawness and irritation in as little as two or three minutes!

It requires medicine—like BAYER ASPIRIN- to do these things! That is why throat specialists throughout America are prescribing this BAYER gargle in place of old-time ways.

Be careful, however, that you get real BAYER Aspirin for this purpose. For they dissolve completely enough to gargle without leaving irritating particles.

Resting up after an active participation in the winter league, the Niles C of C's played smooth baseball Sunday to defeat the Decoto Bees by a score of 7 to 4 at the Niles grammar school grounds. Both teams played steady ball, and the Niles win by no means disgraced the Decoto boys.

Art Mederios, starting on the mound for the Niles team, allowed six hits and walked five men. He held the Decoto team to two runs until he was removed in the eighth inning after allowing three consecutive hits and two runs. Ray Duarte, relief pitcher, went in and retired the side after opposing batters failed to solve his curve ball.

Jim Cull garnered hitting honors for the day with three hits for four tries.

HAYWARD FARMERS DEFEAT DONS TUESDAY

In a practice game played at the Hayward high school gym the Amador A and B teams were defeated by the Farmers last week.

The B team contest was fairly close and exciting. The Dons started fast and in the first quarter they scored eight points against the Hayward's four.

The score throughout the game was very close with neither team scoring many points during the last half. The final score was Amador nine and Hayward eleven.

Campagna was high point man for the Dons with seven points. Paulo and Shotwell followed with two each.

The Amador Varsity gave the Hayward boys one of its closests runs in the four game series although the final score was Hayward twenty-two and Amador fourteen.

In the second half of the game Kay found it necessary to use his first string players as the Dons were leading twelve to eleven at the end of the first half.

It was not until the final quarter when Hayward ran up a score on the Dons, most of the points being scored on center tip off plays. The Dons felt the absence of Fred Dutra, forward, who was absent with poison oak.

Tonight the two teams will play Emeryville there. This is a league contest.

Why Hospitals Use a Liquid Laxative

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. And the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. Do you know the reasons?

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can be controlled. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The right liquid laxative brings a perfect movement, and there is no discomfort at the time, or after.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it! And the habitual use of irritating salts, or of powerful drugs in the highly concentrated form of pills and tablets may prove injurious.

A week with a properly prepared liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will tell you a lot. A few weeks' time, and your bowels can be "as regular as clockwork." Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative which all druggists keep ready for use. It makes an ideal family laxative; effective for all ages, and may be given the youngest child.
